this community. It is our land and our monies that the GRF Board and PCM are selling and spending. Someone should be held responsible!

Worth the Cost

Our 2009 budget shows a dramatic increase in the projected legal fees, naturally attributed to Residents Voice. Seal Beach residents were also asked if their litigation justified the legal costs that they incurred.

A Seal Beach LW Resident responded as follows;

Question:, "... I cannot figure out what advantage may have been won by whom once the 'information issue' was resolved before the Superior Court decision came down. "

Response: "Some people cannot accept that agreements and acceptance through intelligent communication is the key to peaceful and economical co-existence without the need for litigation. They also cannot see past the greed of self profiting attorneys who feed off chaotic, dictatorial, people who refuse to take responsibility due to their lack of morality, rationality and accountability and without those people, lawyers would not make enough money to feed themselves.

There was never a need to hide 'ANYTHING' from even one resident of LW.

Without the hiding ..;

..there was never a need to litigate 'ANYTHING' at any time with regard to LW.

.. there would have been no need for an attorney.

.. there would have been no need to question an attorney.

.. there was never a need to listen to an attorney.

.. there would have been no lies the attorneys told the GRF.

.. there would have been no reason to listen to attorney lies.

.. there would have been no litigation.

.. there would have been no costs involved.

.. there would have been no dissent in Leisure World.

.. the attorneys would not have packed their pockets with over a million dollars of residents money.

Is this really rocket science, or, do attorneys deserve the butt of millions of jokes told about them? Am I the only one who knows why those jokes exist?

We all live in the same community. No one in the community should be restricted from attending any meeting or event within that community for any reason, including meetings regarding litigation. "

Does this apply to Laguna Woods Village? We'd like to think that we are above such contention, but, Home Owner's Associations seem to be prone to this type of restrictive action. If everything is above-board, one would hope that openness would be the answer to most of the concerns that residents are faced with.

Board members listen to residents comments at Board meetings. After the resident has spoken, they feel their job is done and they can promptly ignore what was said. Responding to a resident's comment with a formal reply, should be the norm and not the exception.
