“Wouldn’t GET along,” or, “Wouldn’t GO along”

Friday the thirteenth was a terrible day for Third and a terrible day for LWV. Director K. McDaniel was removed from the Third board by a vote of the directors who appointed her in December. And what heinous crime had McDaniel committed? Time after time the directors called her “bright.” (She was, in fact, appointed an officer of a major corporation at age 19). But then “those” directors added that she was stubborn and wouldn’t get along. Not get along with President Moore? With Director Paulus? With Director Freshley? What would cause such dissention? Could it be that McDaniel actually believed in integrity, accuracy, and transparency? Right on!

Caesar, we have to talk. Meet me at the forum on the ides. -- Brutus

At meeting after meeting the board passed resolutions and then the President Moore took that to mean she could do whatever she pleased. That is not a matter of dissention or getting along, those acts are just wrong. However, McDaniel’s fate was probably sealed when she discovered that Freshley could only aspire to writing minutes at a level that would suggest that Freshley was trying to conceal actions and threats of the managing agent that were later revealed in the CotoBuzz Journal. Or is it?

Or perhaps a group of directors wanted to cover up that President Moore reacted violently to being corrected and forced to follow her own rules (or at least those of the board). When Moore allegedly threw a water bottle at McDaniel (creating visible bruising according to the sheriff’s report) McDaniel left the meeting while Moore raved (in a volume that was audible outside the room) that she, “would never be in another meeting with McDaniel.” Was this prophetic or had the assassination already been plotted, waiting for the opportunity?

Katie, we need to talk. How about coffee at Starbucks? -- Freshley
