A Double Standard!

Last week the Third Mutual Board majority elected Mary Robertson, to fill the seat of recently resigned director James Bragg. My question is this, why was Mary Robertson elected instead of Ernestine Hewitt? When Kathryn McDaniel was elected to the Third Board last December, the questions, and fury, heaped on the board members for electing McDaniel was heard loud and clear. The Third Board was sternly accused of being the most "Polarized Board" ever, for ignoring the will of the voting residents. The reasons expressed by certain outraged residents read like this;

Denise Welch; Do not take a person that has not come through the pros and cons of our reviewers. Listen to the votes of the residents. Elect the person that has been voted on by the residents. The board wants to listen to the residents, that person should be the one the residents voted for.

Barbara Marsh; Mr. Bragg, filed the papers, campaigned. Get's out into the residents. There were only six (6) votes different between him and the next candidate. He knows the community. "He is one of the people we voted for!" I hope you will consider him.

(Editors note: In reality there was only ONE VOTE difference, Mr. Bragg 1160 votes, Ernestine Hewitt 1159 votes)

Alan Cohen; It's obvious to everybody this is a very polarized board, and frankly I'm very disappointed when there is a group of people that scream and yell Transparency! When there was an election only six weeks ago, and I don't know WHY MY VOTE is being discounted as a resident and I say that Jim Bragg, was the person that received the next most votes!

I appreciate not being interrupted by either of you Moore, or Stanley. I just wanted to say my opinion. It is a Big Disappointment to me. This is obvious to me and to everyone in the room this is a polarized board for electing a candidate to push it over to your side.
