

The (Landscape) Work Is Not Done Until All Directors are Taken Care of

Laguna Woods, CA - Given the current unemployment rate you would think that landscape work can be done on the cheap - right? Not in Laguna Woods!

Consider that the hourly rate for landscape work in the community is $40.00/hour. Yes it is not $4.00, it $40.00, as in the \$5 million landscape budget. Given the premiums, you would expect that the work would be done with German engineering precision, right? Wrong again.

Work in and around Mary Robertson continues, even when the project is supposed to be complete

Consider that even after the slope renovation in Third Mutual had been deemed complete, work continued in and around New Third Mutual director Mary Robertson's manor, so we asked the Third Mutual what the deal was.

Mary Robertson promptly responded saying "I did not request work on this slope nor have any say in what is going on. The area has been under renovation since Sept. 2008, long before I was appointed to the Third Board in April 2009. The long renovation period was due to the poor soil in the area for which they had to leach the soil for about 6 months before they could get it in condition for planting."

We figured that Ms. Robertson knew something we did not, so we asked her if she knew about any documentation that might have been sent to the community alerting the community of the mentioned delay. We also suggested that as she pondered how to respond to our last question, and to make sure she did not feel that we had set her up, that she should know we have information that Cynthia Conner had kept Ms. Robertson informed of virtually everything that went on in closed sessions. Further, according to Brian Gentry and Ishmael, the work was complete.

Apparently Ms. Robertson did not know more than we did - she has failed to respond.

Perhaps this explains the $5Million landscape budget.
